

Press TAB to indent. This is the first paragraph of the essay. It is usually the introduction. It tells what your essay will be about. When you are done with the introduction paragraph, it is time to press “enter” two times and start the next paragraph.

Press TAB to indent. This the second paragraph. After every sentence, I type a period and a space. I start my sentences with capital letters. I put spaces between my words. I am done with this paragraph. Now I am going to press “enter” two times and start the next paragraph.

Press TAB to indent. This the third paragraph. Look how easy it is to read! After every sentence, I type a period and a space. I start my sentences with capital letters. I put spaces between my words. I am done with this paragraph, now I am going to press “enter” two times and start the next paragraph.

Press TAB to indent. This the fourth paragraph. Look how easy it is to read! After every sentence, I type a period and a space. I start my sentences with capital letters. I put spaces between my words. I am done with this paragraph, now I am going to press “enter” two times and start the next paragraph.

Press TAB to indent. This the fifth paragraph. This is usually the conclusion. I am almost done, but I remember to type carefully and avoid typos.
